

Steps for IID Removal

Follow the steps below for removal of an Ignition Interlock Device (IID)...

- Step 1 Bring your vehicle into the IID service provider for a final service visit. At this final service visit, the "final download" of data from the IID will be transmitted to the Registry of Motor Vehicles (RMV) Ignition Interlock Department. This final download of data is valid for 24 hours.
- Step 2 Within 24 hours of the final download of data, you must return to an RMV Hearings Officer for an IID Removal Hearing. At this hearing, the RMV will review the data to determine if any lockouts or violations have occurred in the past 6 months. Please refer to the Hearing Sites and Schedules to find an RMV Service Center that holds hearings.
- Step 3 If you do not have any lockouts or violations, the RMV's Ignition Interlock Department will approve the IID removal. The RMV will provide you with a letter indicating that removal of the IID has been authorized. You must bring this letter with you to your IID vendor/service provider to have the IID removed.
- Step 4 If you have any lockouts or violations, your IID removal request will be denied. You will be required to participate in the IID program for an additional 6 months following the date of your last lockout.
